Wega are one of the most reputable coffee machine manufacturers in the industry - and they don't carry the hefty price tag! They are best known for their durability and reliability. The models that prevail this the most are the Polaris' and the Atlas.

The Atlas is the ultimate work-horse in the Wega range, they keep on going forever - provided you look after your machine and service it regularly, of course! The EVD model has 4 volumetric buttons that sit horizontally across the control pad, and 2 powerful steam wands that allow for easy usage.

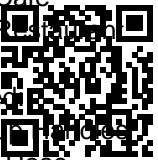

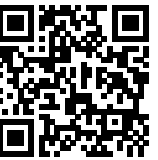

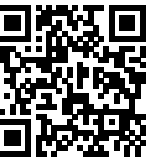

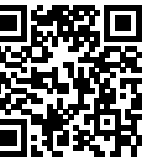

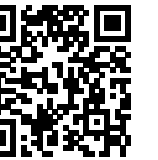

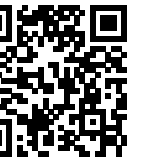

Wega have been one of the leading manufacturers in the industry for many years now. Their flagship machine for durability and reliability is definitely the Atlas. It has set a bench mark for all other companies to follow when designing their work-horse equivalents.
